arrest the reactionary move-ment. Can York not give the country a new warning.

Ever Yours
H. Wilson

Vice-President's Chamber,

Washington, Dec 17, 1874

My Dear Mr Garrison,

I am saddened by what I see and hear. The action of White Leagues men in the South, and the coldness in the North alarms me. I fear a Counter-Revolution. Men are beginning to limit at changing the condition of the negro, and he is now made to feel the force of power and opinion. The tone of some of our press is terrible. Our Anti-Slavery utterances must again speak out. They must again be heard. They must call the battle roll anew, and